Take-home exam policies

- The examinee can look up notes and the textbook only.
- The examinee is not allowed to refer other sources; printed, electronic, and in-person. In particular, an internet search or a discussion with any human being except self are strictly prohibited.
- The exam should be submitted directly to the instructor on June 30th 19:00 at E1-1 Room 110. One can also submit the exam by postal mail if the following three conditions are met.
 - (1) Your mailpiece is postmarked before June 30th 18:00.
 - (2) Your mailpiece is mailed at your own cost via the “Next-Day Express” service (익일특급) to [28644] 충북 청주시 서원구 충대로 1, 충북대학교 사범대학 수학교육과 조교수 박병도 앞.
 - (3) You take responsibility of retaining a high-quality photocopy of the contents of the mailpiece and you accept that you are responsible for providing the photocopy to the grader if your mailpiece is lost for any reasons.
- Submitting your exam by email will not be accepted, and even the email timestamp will not be considered.
- Your exam submitted to the department secretary, other faculty members, staff, or students will not be accepted.
- Late submission of the exam will not be accepted.
- If the grader has any doubt that you have violated the first two items in this set of policies, the grader reserves the right to investigate by asking you to come in to his office, reproduce and explain your own solutions in front of the chalkboard. If you cannot provide a coherent and consistent explanation to your own solution to a problem, the score to that problem will be zero. The investigation session will be both video and audio recorded, and the result of the investigation (including video/audio recording of the investigation) can be reported to the department or the university center.

I understand and agree on the policies on final exam listed above.
